Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-16, drawn to a method for producing a flat article.

Group II, claim 17, drawn to a storable molding material.

Group III, claim 18, drawn to a flat article.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature. The special technical feature is the storable molding material prepared by compounding an epoxidized ester and crosslinking agent(s) and pre-crosslinking to form a moldable material.

Kastl et al. (equivalent to German Patent No. 19,757,591 cited in the PCT documents, col. 4, Example 1) shows a molding material obtained by pre-crosslinking a blend of an epoxidized linseed oil and a maleic anhydride-dipropylene glycol partial ester. The special technical feature does not make a contribution over the prior art, thereby validating a holding of lack of unity.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Art Unit: 1712

1) The epoxidized carboxylic acid ester(s) selected from page 6, lines 6-12 of the specification.

2) The crosslinking agent(s) selected from page 7, the last two paragraphs.

3) The means of crosslinking involving thermal, radiation or both thermal and radiation of claim 9, wherein if radiation is chosen, the type of radiation is selected from UV, electron beam, IR or a combination thereof along with a UV initiator from page 8, lines 17-21.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species within each of items 1), 2) and 3) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Claims 1-18 are generic.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the reasons espoused hereinabove.

Art Unit: 1712

The reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention and species to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

A telephone call was made to Steven L. Schmid on October 8, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction and election of species requirements, but did not result in elections being made.

There is no clear line of demarcation between the auxiliary agents of claim 12, line 4 and the other listed additives in line 3 since the term "auxiliary agents" encompasses additives such as fillers, pigments and hydrophobing agents
